DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claims 13-18 are withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to "The New Illustrated Encyclopedia of Billiards" by Mike Shamos copyrighted in 1993, 1999. Rejections based on the newly cited reference follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by "The New Illustrated Encyclopedia of Billiards" by Mike Shamos.

The prior art teaches a scoring string (see definition) for billiards that is mountable to an object above a pool table. Usually this occurs by mounting the scoring string to the ceiling or a wall. The mechanism to keep scoring is provided by a manual or list of rules for awarding points and deducting points which is discussed via the "scoring" definition. The picture below is extrinsic evidence of a scoring string. The illustration below the scoring string is another example of a scoring system for billiards.

The use of the device shows the score of any particular game. The score of any game will be indicative of a psychological state of an individual.

The Applicant is invited to request an interview to discuss suggestions to overcome the applied prior art.
